

Facilities Management Case: A Dubious Doctrine on Foreign Corporation

Nicanor A. Manalo

25 ATENEO L.J. 73 (1981)

TAG(S): COMMERCIAL LAW, CORPORATION LAW, COURT JURISDICTION

The Case Comment's subject is Facilities Management Corporation v. Dela Osa. In this case, the Supreme Court ruled on a case filed against a corporation not doing business in the Philippines. To the Author, this is violative of the country's doctrines regarding the rules in suits by or against a foreign corporation. A digest of the subject case is also provided in this Comment.
