

Transporting the Concept of Creeping Expropriation from de Lege Ferenda to de Lege Lata: Concretizing the Nebulous under International Law

Patrick Simon S. Perillo

53 ATENEO L.J. 434 (2008)

SUBJECT(S): INTERNATIONAL LAW

KEYWORD(S): CREEPING EXPROPRIATION, LEGE LATA, DE LEGE FERENDA

The Note is an examination of the law-making mechanisms in the contemporary era that contributed to the transformation of the prohibition against creeping expropriation. The Note also illustrates how the said law-making mechanisms served as evidence of opinion juris and State practice.

The Note also includes an analysis of Philippine law and jurisprudence that dissects the standards of indirect taking. These standards are also compared with international standards. The Analysis ends with a conclusion that the international standards must be applied to the Philippine jurisdiction.